Why should we run a workplace campaign?

More than 277 companies in central New Mexico run a United Way workplace campaign. These companies and organizations want to offer their employees the opportunity to participate and understand why giving to social service programs makes our community better for all. Some employees choose to give to one or more of the United Way programs like Mission: Graduate or Mission: Families and others choose the Community Impact Fund or other nonprofits. No matter where they choose to give, payroll deduction through United Way makes it simple and convenient.

What does a workplace campaign look like?

The best campaign is the one that fits the culture and business needs of your workplace. The simplest way to start is to invite a United Way staff person to a regularly scheduled meeting to speak briefly (about 10 minutes) to your employees about this opportunity to give and to describe the benefits of giving through United Way. You can dress that meeting up in whatever way suits your organization and your budget—provide breakfast, lunch or just beverages, offer door prizes or other incentives for attending. United Way can often provide some limited prizes, like t-shirts or water bottles, but don't forget the best gifts, such as time off or lunch on the boss.

What are the options for giving?

Through United Way of Central New Mexico, donors have three ways to give:

1. The Community Impact Fund: The best way for donors to help the most vulnerable children, families and seniors, as well as those with disabilities or illness in central New Mexico with quality programs that feed, clothe, shelter, protect, teach and give hope. For more information about the programs currently funded through this annual competitive grant process, please visit our website at www.uwcnm.org.
2. Any nonprofit agency: Our United Way does not have member agencies, but allows donors to give their gifts to any nonprofit organization in the world. You can designate all or part of your gift through United Way to your agency by simply listing the agency's name on your pledge form.
3. Both the Community Impact Fund and any designated agency .

How much does it cost to donate through United Way of Central New Mexico?

We ask employees to leave 10% of their contribution to support the work of United Way. They can invest their 10% in any number of United Way led programs like Mission: Graduate, Mission: Families, Family Advocacy Center, 211 Information & Referral, Tax Help New Mexico or one of our Donor Group Initiatives.

How do we get started running a campaign?

Please contact Randy Woodcock at United Way of Central New Mexico at randy.woodcock@uwcnm.org or 505-247-3671. The Corporate Relations team is happy to meet with your organization's leadership to set up a campaign that suits your employees and your workplace.

What is the Community Impact Fund?

Our dedicated Corporate Relations team fundraises throughout the year to make us the largest grantor and investor in our state. This allows us to provide Community Impact Grants to nonprofits whose work is in alignment with our goals. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, during the most recent campaign, we were able to award 52 grants totaling $1.2 million during the 2019-2020 campaign.
